

Abhishek Chauhan

COUNSEL

Abhishek Chauhan is a Counsel in the Litigation & Dispute Resolution practice at DMD Advocates. With almost a decade of experience, Abhishek focuses on complex civil and commercial litigation and disputes across original and appellate jurisdictions, including trial proceedings. He has acted in a wide array of high-stakes disputes, representing clients before various courts, forums, and arbitral tribunals in India.

In addition to his civil and commercial practice, Abhishek has developed strong expertise in white collar crime matters. He regularly advises and represents clients—both individuals and institutions—in criminal proceedings, including those involving allegations of fraud, corruption, cybercrime, economic offences, and regulatory violations. He has appeared before and engaged with several investigative and enforcement agencies such as the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), Economic Offences Wing (EOW), Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI), and the Criminal Investigation Department (Cyber Crime), among others.

Abhishek's approach to litigation is marked by strategic trail thinking and practical risk assessment. He works closely with clients to craft effective legal strategies that mitigate risk and ensure strong defence throughout trial and appellate stages. His nuanced understanding of both substantive and procedural law, combined with his experience across forums, makes him a trusted advisor in contentious matters.

Prior to joining DMD Advocates, Abhishek has been associated with Chambers of Aman Lekhi (then Additional Solicitor General of India) and Chambers of Ms. Sonia Mathur (Sr. Advocate) and advised clients on a wide range of litigation and disputes, including criminal investigations and trials, helping them navigate sensitive and high-profile matters with discretion and clarity before various courts of the country.
